

Identitywa is one of Western Australia's leading agencies supporting people with disability and their families.

It has been our focus for over 40 years to assist people to live a good life.

We work in partnership with people, tailoring supports to suit each individual and family's unique situation.

We provide a range of living and community supports for children and adults and their families.

Sharing the journey

When we begin our relationship with you, we start by asking 'What does a good life look like for you?'

We listen carefully to your answers, then work with you to find the right range of supports for your unique situation.

As your needs, goals and dreams change over time, we'll 'move with you', adapting our support to suit you.

If we're not able to provide the support you need, we'll help you find it.

Our clear Vision, Mission and Values are a constant guide to ensure we maintain a high quality service for which we have become known. Together, we'll share your journey.

At each stage of life

Develop a combination of supports tailored to suit your life.

At Home: We can offer help with the activities of daily life in your home, or in one of our shared living houses located across the metropolitan area. We can also facilitate your goals and outcomes as you build relationships, friendships and connections.

Having a Break: A short break can be arranged at our Adult (Respite) House located in the northern suburb of Koondoola. You will be in a fully supported and interactive environment, building confidence and friendships while participating in experiences and activities that we plan with you.

Fun, Friends and Living: We can support your interests and passions, helping to build friendships, participating in activities you enjoy whether it is at a structured recreation activity or other experiences at one of the many local community venues and events.

Skills for Life: We understand that resilience and confidence builds positive futures. When you ask us to partner with you to support life opportunities in the way you want, we will focus on your plans, your goals and your achievements.

School's Out: Explore options for life after school, transition to further education, obtaining your driver's license, work or other meaningful activities.

Community: We recognise your voice, gifts and abilities in a variety of ways by supporting you in employment opportunities, volunteering, growing your hobbies, or in study and learning.

Plan Development and Management: Identitywa can support you with plan development; coordination and implementation of plan supports; and also a range of plan (funding) management options to suit you.

Discuss your ideas with our Planning Officers.
